

*We are pleased to announce that Josiah A. Jobst
 graduated with a Spanish Baccalaureate Diploma in Social Sciences and Humanities from Torre Almirante High School in Algeciras, Spain on Friday, June 1st, 2018*

Josiah is now enrolled at Calvin College in Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he begins his studies at the end of August. He has not yet declared a major, but he is considering Sociology or Geography.

Here (at left) is our favorite photo from graduation night: Josiah, wearing his newly awarded graduation sash, is flanked by proud siblings Thomas and Phoebe. It will be their turn to finish High School next Spring!

Thank you for your support, encouragement and prayers through this extremely busy time of year! We thank God for you, and for the privilege of serving Him here in Spain. God is answering prayers: local Christians are excited to get trained and help with the outreach, and so are volunteers coming from other countries. We praise the Lord that all the ministry materials have now been successfully delivered for port city distribution. Please pray for God to bless the rest of the logistical details: especially that all our evangelism teams and their leaders will receive their travel visas! Thank you for helping us make a difference here.

Serving with you,
Allen and Deedee

This week Allen is helping conduct an audit for our ministry's area financial office, in another country in our region. He reports that everything is going well so far! He sent this photo (above) of the beautiful cathedral whose guest house he's staying at for the first few days of his trip.
